Dan,

Thank you for your contributions to our National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS) Awardee Conference held September 14-15, 2006 in New York City, New York. Your experience, training, and knowledge as a trainer and health and safety expert proved invaluable in facilitating discussion on the topic of delivering training to workers in the field. Your communication abilities and presentation style received high praise from conference attendees. We look forward to your participation in future events.

Sincerely,
